Dan Kidle Honored with National Venture Capital Association's Rising Star Award

ANN ARBOR, MI (February 18, 2020) – Arboretum Ventures, a leading healthcare venture capital firm, today announced that Dan Kidle has been named one of three recipients of the National Venture Capital Association's Rising Star Award for 2020. This award recognizes the next generation of venture capitalists who have established themselves as emerging leaders in the industry. Dan is receiving this award at the upcoming NVCA Leadership Gala along with investment professionals from Venrock and Scale Venture Partners.

Dan was also recently promoted from Principal to Partner at Arboretum Ventures. His areas of focus include diagnostics and life science research tools, which comprise the majority of his investments to date. "Dan is a very talented investor with a keen eye for promising technologies that fill unmet market needs," says Tim Petersen, Managing Partner. "He will continue to play an important role leading investments as we build the Arboretum Ventures V portfolio." Dan served as a board member of IntelliCyt when it was acquired by Sartorius in 2016. Currently, he is a director at Swift Biosciences and Dropworks and a board observer at NeuMoDx and Strata Oncology.

Dan earned his BBA and MBA from the Ross Business School at the University of Michigan. He also serves on the Investment Advisory Board for the University of Michigan's Biomedical Venture Fund.

About Arboretum Ventures:

Arboretum Ventures is an early-stage venture capital firm specializing in the healthcare sector. We focus on investments in medical devices, life science tools & diagnostics, and tech-enabled care delivery. Our guiding vision is to identify transformative healthcare companies that are developing improved and less costly solutions to large, chronic health problems in a capital-efficient manner. Founded in 2002 and located in Ann Arbor, Michigan, we currently manage $700 million in capital across five investment funds with our most recent fund closing in 2019 at $250 million.
